INTRODUCTION TO GENDER AUDIT

GENDER AUDIT: AN INTRODUCTION

A gender audit is a comprehensive evaluation process aimed at understanding how gender influences various aspects of an organization's operations, including decision-making, resource allocation, recruitment, retention, and program development. It involves examining policies, practices, and attitudes to identify areas where gender biases may exist and to recommend strategies for promoting gender equality and inclusivity.

KEY COMPONENTS OF GENDER AUDIT:

- 1. Policy Analysis: Reviewing organizational policies and procedures to assess their gender responsiveness and identifying areas for improvement.
- 2. Data Collection and Analysis: Gathering quantitative and qualitative data on gender-related indicators, such as representation, participation, and decision-making, and analyzing them to identify patterns and trends.
- 3. Stakeholder Consultation: Engaging with stakeholders, including employees, management, and external partners, to gather perspectives on gender issues within the organization.
- 4. Capacity Building: Providing training and awareness-raising activities to build the capacity of staff and stakeholders to understand and address gender issues effectively.
- 5. Action Planning: Developing action plans with specific goals, objectives, and timelines for addressing identified gender disparities and promoting gender equality within the organization.

BENEFITS OF GENDER AUDIT:

- 1. Improved Organizational Performance: Addressing gender disparities can lead to increased productivity, innovation, and employee satisfaction, contributing to overall organizational performance.
- 2. Enhanced Reputation: Organizations that demonstrate a commitment to gender equality are likely to enhance their reputation and attractiveness to employees, customers, and other stakeholders.
- 3. Legal Compliance: Gender audits can help organizations ensure compliance with relevant laws and regulations related to gender equality and non-discrimination.

4. Social Responsibility: Promoting gender equality is a fundamental aspect of corporate social responsibility, demonstrating a commitment to ethical and sustainable business practices.

In conclusion, a gender audit is a valuable tool for organizations seeking to promote gender equality, diversity, and inclusivity within their operations. By systematically assessing gender-related issues and implementing targeted interventions, organizations can create more equitable and inclusive environments that benefit everyone.

GENDER AUDIT COMMITTEE:

A Gender Audit Committee is a specialized group tasked with overseeing and conducting gender audits within an organization. Here's an overview of its composition, roles, and responsibilities:

ROLES AND RESPONSIBILITIES:

- 1. Developing Audit Framework: The committee is responsible for developing the framework and methodology for conducting gender audits, including defining audit objectives, scope, data collection methods, and analysis procedures.
- 2. Conducting Audits: The committee oversees the implementation of gender audits, including coordinating data collection, conducting interviews and focus groups, analyzing findings, and preparing audit reports.
- 3. Identifying Gender Disparities: The committee examines organizational policies, practices, and procedures to identify areas where gender disparities, biases, and inequalities exist.
- 4. Providing Recommendations: Based on audit findings, the committee provides recommendations for addressing gender disparities and promoting gender equality within the organization. These recommendations may include policy changes, training programs, and targeted interventions.
- 5. Monitoring and Evaluation: The committee monitors the implementation of audit recommendations and evaluates their effectiveness in addressing gender disparities over time. It may also conduct follow-up audits to track progress and identify emerging issues.
- 6. Advocacy and Awareness: The committee advocates for gender equality and raises awareness about gender-related issues within the organization, promoting a culture of inclusivity, respect, and gender sensitivity.
- 7. Capacity Building: The committee provides training and capacity-building activities to staff and stakeholders to enhance their understanding of gender issues and their ability to promote gender equality in their work.
- 8. Reporting to Leadership: The committee reports regularly to organizational leadership on the outcomes of gender audits, progress in implementing audit recommendations, and emerging trends or challenges related to gender equality within the organization.

COLLABORATION AND PARTNERSHIPS:

The Gender Audit Committee collaborates closely with other relevant committees, departments, and stake holders within the organization, as well as external partners such as gender experts, NGOs, and government agencies, to leverage expertise, resources, and best practices in promoting gender equality and diversity.

In summary, a Gender Audit Committee plays a critical role in driving organizational change towards greater gender equality and inclusivity by conducting gender audits, providing recommendations, and advocating for gender-sensitive policies and practices.

CONSTITUTION OF GENDER AUDIT COMMITTEE:

The Gender Audit undertaken by the IQAC, Safa College of Arts and Science e, along with external and internal Committee Members. External Committee Member, Vice Chairman and Chairman intended to scrutinize the gender balance within the institution and its practices and focused on the following objectives;

OBJECTIVES OF GENDER AUDIT:

- 1. Identifying Gender Disparities: The primary objective of a gender audit is to identify disparities between men and women in terms of access to opportunities, resources, and decision making power within the organization.
- 2. Assessing Gender Sensitivity: A gender audit evaluates the organization's sensitivity to gender issues and its capacity to address them effectively in its policies, programs, and practices.
- 3. Promoting Gender Equality: By identifying areas of gender inequality and bias, a gender audit helps organizations develop strategies and interventions to promote gender equality and empower women and other marginalized gender groups.
- 4. Enhancing Organizational Effectiveness: Gender audits can contribute to enhancing organizational effectiveness by ensuring that policies and practices are inclusive and responsive to the diverse needs and perspectives of all members of the organization.

FUNCTIONS OF GENDER AUDIT COMMITTEE:

The functions of a Gender Audit encompass a range of activities aimed at identifying, addressing, and monitoring gender disparities and promoting gender equality within an organization. Here are the key functions:

- 1. Assessment and Analysis: Conducting a comprehensive assessment of organizational policies, practices, and procedures to identify gender disparities, biases, and barriers to equality. This involves collecting and analyzing data on gender representation, access to resources, decision-making processes, and other relevant indicators.
- 2. Policy Review: Reviewing existing organizational policies and procedures to assess their gender responsiveness and effectiveness in promoting gender equality. This includes examining recruitment and promotion policies, family-friendly policies, anti-discrimination policies, and other relevant documents.

- 3. Stakeholder Engagement: Engaging with internal and external stakeholders, including employees, management, clients, partners, and community members, to gather perspectives and insights on gender-related issues within the organization. This may involve conducting surveys, interviews, focus groups, or consultation meetings.
- 4. Identification of Gender Gaps: Identifying specific areas where gender disparities exist within the organization, such as gender pay gaps, underrepresentation of women in leadership positions, unequal access to training and development opportunities, or gender-based discrimination and harassment.
- 5. Recommendations Development: Developing recommendations and action plans to address identified gender gaps and promote gender equality within the organization. This may include proposing changes to policies and procedures, implementing targeted interventions and initiatives, and providing training and capacity-building activities for staff and stakeholders.
- 6. Capacity Building: Providing training and awareness-raising activities to build the capacity of staff and stakeholders to understand and address gender issues effectively. This may include workshops, seminars, webinars, or e-learning modules on topics such as gender sensitivity, unconscious bias, inclusive leadership, and diversity management.
- 7. Monitoring and Evaluation: Monitoring the implementation of gender audit recommendations and evaluating their impact on promoting gender equality within the organization. This involves tracking progress, collecting feedback, and adjusting strategies as needed to address emerging challenges and opportunities.
- 8. Reporting and Accountability: Reporting regularly to organizational leadership, governing bodies, or other relevant stakeholders on the outcomes of the gender audit, including findings, recommendations, progress updates, and challenges encountered. This helps ensure transparency, accountability, and ongoing commitment to gender equality goals.

By performing these functions, a Gender Audit contributes to creating a more inclusive, equitable, and diverse organizational culture that benefits all employees and stakeholders.

GENDER AUDIT METHODS

Gender audits employ various methods to assess gender-related issues within an organization comprehensively. These methods aim to identify gender disparities, biases, and barriers to equality. There are various common gender audit methods but ,here we emphasise the Specific Gender audit methods:

- 1. Document Review: Reviewing organizational policies, procedures, guidelines, and reports to identify gender-specific language, practices, and biases. This includes analysing recruitment and promotion policies, performance evaluation criteria, and organizational charts.
- 2. Benchmarking: Comparing the organization's gender-related practices, policies, and outcomes with industry benchmarks, best practices, or relevant standards and guidelines. This helps identify areas where the organization may be falling behind or excelling in promoting gender equality.
- 3. Participatory Methods: Involving employees and stakeholders in the gender audit process through participatory methods such as workshops, brainstorming sessions, or action planning exercises. This fosters ownership, collaboration, and collective problem-solving in addressing gender-related issues.
- 4. Feedback Mechanisms: Establishing feedback mechanisms such as suggestion boxes, anonymous hotlines, or online forums to allow employees to report gender-related concerns, provide feedback on existing policies and practices, and suggest ideas for improvement.

GENDER WISE DISTRIBUTION OF TOTAL POPULATION IN THE INSTITUTION

ABOUT THE COLLEGE

Safa College of Arts & Science, towering over a group of Safa institutions, was established in 2009 and is affiliated to the University of Calicut. Safa Group of institutions was implanted under Orphans' Educational and Charitable Trust by honourable Sir VP Kunhimoideen Kutty two decades ago with a great vision of upliftment of socio-economic feeble communities of the society. The college is located at Pookkatiri on a lovely hillside overlooking a vast panorama of lush greenery around in the midst of a spacious campus, 5 km away from Valanchery towards Perinthalmanna in Malappuram District. On its way towards quality enrichment, the college is steadfast to achieve NAAC accreditation. At present, the college offers 9 UG and 3 PG programmes.

VISION

Our vision is to become a centre of excellence in higher education, to produce innovative and socially responsible citizens from all sections of society. These graduates will contribute to the progressive and sustainable development of our nation.

MISSION

We are devoted to facilitate transformative and experiential learning and to increase equitable opportunities. We will also encourage scientific inquiry and strive to transform our students into socially responsible and conscientious citizens.

OBJECTIVES

- I. Embracing innovative learning through scholastic and co-scholastic activities.
- II. Empowering and equipping students with skills and knowledge for their future needs.
- III. Facilitating experiential learning and social responsibility through collaborative programmes
- IV. Uplifting socio-economically challenged communities by providing opportunities and educational assistance.
- V. Promotion of human values, service to others and inclusiveness.

GENDER WISE DISTRIBUTION OF TOTAL POPULATION IN THE COLLEGE

Understanding the gender-wise distribution of total population in a college is important for several reasons:

- 1. Promoting Gender Equality: By analyzing the gender composition of students, colleges can identify any gender disparities and take steps to promote gender equality in enrollment and retention.
- 2. Supporting Inclusive Policies: Gender-wise distribution data can inform the development of inclusive policies and programs that cater to the diverse needs of all students, regardless of gender.
- 3. Addressing Gender Gaps: Colleges can use this data to address gender gaps in specific fields of study or academic programs, encouraging more equitable participation and representation across disciplines.

Here's the analysis report of the gender-wise distribution of teaching staff in the college based on the provided data:

1. Total Teaching Staff:

- The total number of teaching staff in the college across the years is 296.

2. Gender Distribution:

- Male: There are 117 male teaching staff members, accounting for approximately 39.5% of the total teaching staff.
- Female: Female teaching staff members outnumber male staff, with a total of 179, constituting around 60.5% of the total teaching staff.
- Non-Binary: There are no non-binary teaching staff reported in the data provided.

3. Trend Analysis:

- Female teaching staff outnumbers male staff consistently across all years, indicating a higher representation of female educators within the college.

- The percentage of male teaching staff remains relatively stable over the years, hovering around 39-41%.
- Similarly, the percentage of female teaching staff remains consistent, ranging from 58.7% to 62.7%.

4. Gender Equity Implications:

- The higher representation of female teaching staff suggests a positive trend towards gender equity within the college's academic workforce.
- Efforts to maintain and further promote gender diversity among teaching staff can contribute to a more inclusive and balanced educational environment.

5. Conclusion:

- The analysis indicates a notable gender disparity in favour of female teaching staff within the college.
- While the representation of female teaching staff is higher, ongoing efforts should focus on ensuring equitable opportunities for professional growth and advancement for all staff members regardless of gender.

Overall, this analysis provides insight into the gender composition of teaching staff in the college and highlights the need for continued monitoring and efforts to promote gender diversity and equity within the academic workforce.

GENDER SENSITIZATION INITIATIVES

GENDER SENSITIZATION INITIATIVES

Gender sensitization initiatives aim to raise awareness and foster understanding about gender-related issues, with the goal of promoting gender equality and challenging stereotypes, discrimination, and biases. These initiatives encompass a range of educational programs, workshops, policies, and advocacy efforts designed to empower individuals to recognize and address gender-based inequalities and injustices.

The introduction to such initiatives typically outlines the importance of gender equality in creating a more just and inclusive society. It may discuss the historical context of gender discrimination and the ongoing struggles faced by individuals of all genders. Additionally, it highlights the need for proactive measures to dismantle systemic barriers and promote respect, dignity, and equal opportunities for everyone, regardless of gender identity or expression.

Gender sensitization initiatives often emphasize the role of education in challenging stereotypes and fostering empathy and understanding. They may also underscore the importance of promoting gender-sensitive language, policies, and practices in various settings, including schools, workplaces, and communities.

Here are some common elements and examples of such initiatives:

1. Educational Programs:
2. Workshops and Training Sessions:
3. Policy Development:
4. Awareness Campaigns:
5. Community Engagement:
6. Support Services:

The following initiatives have been undertaken by the College for the convenience of girl students:

She Corner: Ladies Common Room:

There are two Rest rooms for Ladies and there is adequate space in the Ladies Common Room and silence is maintained for girls to study. Washroom provision has also been made for girls in the Ladies Room.

Girls Washroom & Toilets:

Girls' washrooms are situated at Four different places in the college with ample water supply and proper maintenance.

Drinking Water:

Water coolers and water purifiers have been provided for boys and girls in the College campus.

Canteen:

There is a separate section in the canteen for girls so that they can comfortably consume their own food or canteen food.

The college has established a number of committees to aid girl students and ladies staff. These committees include:

1. Anti-Ragging Committee:

The college publishes its regulations in the prospectus. Ragging is a criminal offence and UGC has notified regulations on curbing the menace of ragging in educational institutions. In order to prohibit, prevent and eliminate the scourge of ragging the College has formed an Anti-Ragging Committee. The students in distress owing to ragging related incidents can approach the Committee. The Committee has 3 females, 3 males and one Vice Chairperson. The Principal of the College is the Chairperson of the Anti-Ragging Committee.

2. Anti-Ragging Squad

Establishing an Anti-Ragging Squad from the student side at Safa College is an important initiative to ensure the safety and well-being of all students. Here's a proposed framework for the Anti-Ragging Squad:

Formation and Structure:

The Anti-Ragging Squad will be composed of student volunteers from different departments and academic years.

A designated faculty member or staff advisor will oversee the activities of the squad and provide guidance and support as needed.

The squad will consist of both male and female students to address concerns from all perspectives.

Roles and Responsibilities:

Conduct regular patrols around the campus, particularly in high-traffic areas such as hostels, cafeterias, and common areas, to deter and detect any instances of ragging.

Act as first responders to any reports or complaints of ragging and intervene immediately to ensure the safety of the victim and prevent further incidents.

Collaborate with college authorities, including the Anti-Ragging Committee and faculty members, to investigate reported incidents thoroughly and take appropriate disciplinary actions against the perpetrators.

Organize awareness campaigns and workshops to educate students about the negative consequences of ragging and promote a culture of respect, tolerance, and inclusivity among peers.

Serve as peer mentors and support systems for students who may be experiencing bullying or harassment, providing them with guidance, counseling, and resources to address their concerns.

Training and Support:

Provide comprehensive training sessions for squad members on recognizing different forms of ragging, conflict resolution techniques, and effective communication skills.

Equip squad members with the necessary resources, such as contact information for college authorities, helplines, and counseling services, to effectively respond to incidents and support victims.

Establish regular communication channels, such as dedicated email addresses or hotlines, for students to report incidents of ragging confidentially and seek assistance from the squad.

Collaboration and Coordination:

Foster collaboration with other student organizations, clubs, and societies within the college to amplify anti-ragging efforts and promote a unified stance against bullying and harassment.

Maintain open communication with college administration and faculty members to exchange information, share updates on anti-ragging initiatives, and address any emerging concerns or challenges.

3. Discipline Committee:

The college has formed a Discipline Committee. The students in distress owing to Discipline related incidents can assess the committee. The committee has 03 females, 03 males and one Vice Chairperson. The Principal of the College is the Chairperson of the Discipline Committee.

4. ICC –Internal Complaint Committee :

Women Empowerment and Gender Equality are the most important requirements for the upliftment and progress of our nation. To address the gender related problems , the Statutory Women’s Forum

–ICC was constituted since 2011. The forum has both the faculty and nonteaching of the College as its members and works with an aim to create a gender sensitized community within campus as well as in the society. It has been organizing various skill enhancement, academic, technical, medical, cultural and social events for the upliftment of women and promotion of the importance of gender equality in society through the College students.

5. Women Development Cell

The Women Development Cell at Safa College plays a pivotal role in fostering gender inclusivity and empowerment within the campus community. Committed to promoting the holistic development of female students, the cell organizes various initiatives and programs aimed at addressing gender-related issues, advocating for women's rights, and providing support and resources to enhance the educational and personal growth of women. Through workshops, seminars, and awareness campaigns, the Women Development Cell creates a platform for dialogue and reflection on gender equality, encouraging students to challenge stereotypes, overcome barriers, and embrace their full potential. Moreover, the cell serves as a proactive mechanism for addressing concerns related to gender discrimination, harassment, and safety, offering a safe and supportive space for female students to voice their experiences and seek guidance and assistance. By fostering a culture of respect, inclusivity, and empowerment, the Women Development Cell contributes significantly to the college's commitment to promoting gender equity and creating an environment where all individuals can thrive and succeed.

6. Anti-Sexual Harassment Club

The Anti-Sexual Harassment Club at Safa College is a vital initiative dedicated to fostering a safe and respectful campus environment free from all forms of sexual harassment and misconduct. Comprised of students, faculty, and staff members, the club works tirelessly to raise awareness about sexual harassment issues, educate the college community about their rights and responsibilities, and provide support and resources to those affected by such incidents. Through workshops, seminars, and awareness campaigns, the club aims to empower students with knowledge and skills to recognize, prevent, and respond to instances of sexual harassment effectively. Additionally, the club serves as a confidential support system for survivors, offering guidance, counseling, and referral services to help them navigate through the reporting process and access the necessary support mechanisms. By promoting a culture of zero tolerance towards sexual harassment and fostering empathy, respect, and accountability among students and staff, the Anti-Sexual Harassment Club plays a crucial role in upholding the college's commitment to creating a safe and inclusive learning environment for all.

RECOMMENDATIONS & CONCLUSION

RECOMMENDATIONS

Conducting a gender audit at Safa College of Arts and Science is crucial for ensuring gender equality and inclusivity within the institution. With male students constituting 52% of the student population and male teaching staff comprising only 40% of the faculty, it's evident that there may be disparities that need to be addressed. Here are 20 recommendations for conducting a gender audit and fostering a more inclusive environment:

- 1. Comprehensive Data Collection: Begin by collecting comprehensive data on gender demographics among students, teaching staff, and administrative personnel. Ensure that data collection methods are inclusive and respectful of diverse gender identities.
- 2. Review Recruitment Practices: Assess recruitment practices to identify any biases or barriers that may contribute to the underrepresentation of certain genders among teaching staff. Implement measures to promote gender diversity in recruitment processes.
- 3. Promotion and Advancement: Evaluate promotion and advancement policies to ensure that they are fair and equitable for all genders. Address any barriers that may hinder the advancement of female teaching staff.
- 4. Gender-sensitive Curriculum: Review the curriculum to ensure that it is gender-sensitive and inclusive. Incorporate perspectives from diverse genders across various academic disciplines.
- 5. Training and Awareness Programs: Provide training and awareness programs on gender equality and sensitivity for faculty, staff, and students. Promote understanding and awareness of gender-related issues within the college community.
- 6. Support Services: Assess the availability and accessibility of support services for gender-related issues, including counseling, healthcare, and facilities. Ensure that support services are inclusive and responsive to the needs of all genders.

- 7. Gender-neutral Facilities: Evaluate the availability of gender-neutral facilities on campus, such as restrooms and changing rooms. Ensure that facilities are inclusive and accessible to individuals of all genders.
- 8. Representation in Leadership: Assess the representation of genders in leadership positions within the college, including administrative roles and departmental leadership. Implement strategies to promote gender diversity in leadership positions.
- 9. Student Engagement: Engage students in discussions and initiatives related to gender equality and inclusivity. Create opportunities for students to contribute to the development of a more inclusive campus culture.
- 10. Collaboration with Gender-focused Organizations: Collaborate with gender-focused organizations and advocacy groups to promote gender equality and inclusivity on campus. Seek partnerships and support from external stakeholders who are experts in gender-related issues.
- 11. Policy Review: Review existing policies and procedures to ensure that they are gender-sensitive and inclusive. Make revisions as necessary to address any gaps or shortcomings in current policies.
- 12. Survey and Feedback Mechanisms: Implement survey and feedback mechanisms to gather input from students, faculty, and staff on gender-related issues and concerns. Use this feedback to inform decision-making and policy development.
- 13. Gender-specific Support Programs: Develop support programs and initiatives tailored to the needs of specific gender groups, such as mentorship programs for female faculty members or support networks for LGBTQ+ students.
- 14. Community Outreach: Engage with the broader community to raise awareness of gender equality issues and promote inclusivity. Partner with local organizations and stakeholders to advocate for gender equality both on and off campus.
- 15. Inclusive Language and Communication: Ensure that language and communication within the college community are inclusive and respectful of diverse gender identities. Avoid gendered language and stereotypes in official communications and materials.
- 16. Celebration of Diversity: Celebrate diversity and promote inclusivity through campus events, work shops, and cultural programs. Highlight the contributions of individuals from diverse gender backgrounds to the college community.

17.Regular Monitoring and Evaluation: Establish mechanisms for regular monitoring and evaluation of gender equality initiatives. Track progress over time and make adjustments as needed to address emerging issues and challenges.

18.Commitment to Continuous Improvement: Demonstrate a commitment to continuous improvement and accountability in promoting gender equality. Regularly review and update policies, practices, and initiatives to ensure they remain responsive to the needs and priorities of all genders within the college community.

19.Transparency and Accountability: Maintain transparency and accountability in the gender audit process by communicating findings and progress to the college community. Engage stakeholders in dialogue and decision-making to foster a sense of ownership and collective responsibility for promoting gender equality and inclusivity.

By implementing these recommendations, Safa College of Arts and Science can conduct a thorough gender audit and take meaningful steps towards fostering a more inclusive and equitable campus environment for all genders

SUMMARY AND CONCLUSION

Summary:

The gender audit conducted at Safa College revealed several key findings regarding the gender dynamics within the institution. With male students comprising 52% of the student population and male teaching staff representing only 40% of the faculty, there are evident disparities that need to be addressed. The audit assessed various aspects of the college, including recruitment practices, salary and benefits, promotion and advancement opportunities, curriculum inclusivity, support services, and representation in leadership roles. Through comprehensive data collection and analysis, the audit identified areas where improvements are needed to promote gender equality and inclusivity within the college community.

Conclusion:

The gender audit at Safa College provides valuable insights into the gender dynamics within the institution and serves as a roadmap for promoting gender equality and inclusivity. By addressing the findings and recommendations of the audit, Safa College can work towards creating a more equitable and inclusive campus environment where all genders are valued and respected. Through targeted interventions and on-going monitoring, the college can foster a culture of diversity, equity, and inclusion that benefits the entire college community. Ultimately, the gender audit serves as a catalyst for positive change and reinforces the college's commitment to upholding principles of social justice and equality.

CERTIFICATE

This is to certify that a "Gender Audit" was conducted at Safa College of Arts and Science, Pookkattiri, to assess the institution's adherence to gender equality principles and identify areas for improvement. Safa College of Arts and Science, Pookkattiri, is committed to promoting gender equality and fostering an inclusive campus environment.
